DAIRY FARMER KILLED BY GIANT CHEESE

By MILES PLATTING

A 74-YEAR-OLD dairy farmer was killed in a freak accident when thousands of wheels of hard parmesan-style cheese collapsed on top of him.

Giacomo Chiapparini was squashed when giant shelves holding the 90lb wheels of cheese suddenly buckled, causing tons of the dairy delicacy to crash down.

Bullock's husband dies at 57

ACTRESS Sandra Bullock's long-term partner, photographer Bryan Randall, has died at the age of 57. His family confirmed he died after being diagnosed three years ago with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS). Randall's family said they were 'immensely grateful to the tireless doctors who navigated the landscape of this illness'.

Bullock's sister praised the Hollywood actress for the 'amazing' way she cared for her husband in his final years. "ALS is a cruel disease but there is some comfort in knowing he had the best of caretakers in my amazing sister and the band of nurses who look after him in their home," Gesine Bullock-Prado said.

"I'm convinced that Bry has found the best fishing spot in heaven and is casting his lure."

Brit on Brit sex attack in Spain

A BRITISH man has been arrested on suspicion of sexually assaulting another UK tourist at a hotel in Magaluf.

The 48-year-old man is said to have approached the female from behind and put his hands down the 20-year-old woman's trousers before touching her private parts.

The alleged victim, who was staying at the same unnamed hotel as the male holidaymaker, told cops he was a stranger.

A hotel receptionist alerted police who arrested the suspect shortly after arriving at the hotel.

YOU CAN'T PARK THERE, MATE...

A CAR launched into the air and landed in a first-floor bedroom of a home, where it remained dangling precariously.

Firemen raced to the scene of the crash in Decatur, Pennsylvania, and found the Toyota Corolla stuck on the roof and through a dormer.

The fire brigade shared unbelievable photos of the crash and the gaping hole left behind in the side of the house. The Corolla sits atop a lower roof over the front porch of the home as the front of the car is smashed into a now-crooked dormer with large splinters of wood littering the roof and lawn below.

Emergency crews stabilized the building so that it wouldn't collapse further and helped the homeowners place a tarp over the hole to prepare for incoming storms.

The driver had got out of the vehicle and was taken to hospital with relatively minor injuries.

It's thought the car likely hit a small culvert next to the home's driveway which launched it through the air and into the side of the house.

Pennsylvania State Police said its investigators believe the crash was not an accident.

Fk off back to France says Tory vice chair

JUSTICE Secretary Alex Chalk defended Conservative Party deputy chairman Lee Anderson, who said asylum seekers complaining about the Bibby Stockholm barge should 'fk off back to France'.

Mr Chalk said: "Lee Anderson expresses the righteous indignation of the British people. Yes, he does it in salty terms, that's his style, but his indignation is well placed."

The Justice Secretary said France is a safe country - it's not like there should be an open shopping list of where you want to go," he said.

"He expresses himself in his characteristically robust terms but there is a lot of sense, in my respectful view, in what Lee says."

Mr Chalk also acknowledged that the "task force" aimed at identifying dodgy immigration lawyers has been in operation for some time.

Labour MP Chris Bryant exposes gay groping in House of Commons

RANDY MP GRABBED MY MEMBER

OUT OF ORDER: Bryant says sex attacks are rife

TOP MP Sir Chris Bryant has revealed he's been groped by five MPs during his 22 years in Parliament - including one perv who grabbed his package.

The Labour backbencher, who is chair of the House Committee on Standards, claimed in a new book that five male MPs 'have felt my bottom uninvited'.

He also said one had 'pushed me against a wall and felt my crotch', while another had 'rubbed himself behind me in the queue to vote'.

Sir Chris, who has been MP for Rhondda since 2001, has

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

not identified any of the politicians but confirmed his allegations relate to five people.

The 61-year-old's new book, titled Code of Conduct: Why We Need to Fix Parliament - and How to Do it, makes the case for accepting 'good enough' MPs and not saints.

During his time writing the book, the number of MPs suspended rose from 20 to 22.

Sir Chris, who is openly gay and married, revealed his own experience of bad behaviour in Parliament.

"Over the years five male MPs have felt my bottom uninvited. One of them, who was not out, did so repeatedly," he wrote.

"Another, who is still in the House and still does not accept he is gay, pushed me against a wall and felt my crotch."

Snogging

"Another rubbed himself behind me in the queue to vote and was later snogging two men in the Strangers' Bar."

"I know other gay MPs and staff who have faced the same."

As chair of the Committee on Standards, Sir Chris considers wrongdoing by MPs.

He acknowledged his own flaws as being 'impulsive, sanctimonious and pompous' at the start of his book, which is described as a clean-up manual for Parliament.

"I know there are occasions when I have got my facts wrong, and the whirligig of politics has spun so fast I haven't corrected the record," he wrote.

Sir Chris spoke about being groped in Parliament during a radio interview last year.

He said: "When I came in, in 2001, I was regularly touched up by older, senior gay - well, they weren't out but - MPs."

"I never felt I was able to report it because you end up being part of the story. And I think a lot of women have been through that."

Soaking summer hits shop sales

JULY'S wet weather stopped shoppers updating their summer wardrobes and stocking up on seasonal goods, new figures suggest.

Retail sales were 1.5% higher in July compared to a year ago, a rise far below the rate of inflation, the British Retail Consortium (BRC) said.

The group said rising interest rates were also squeezing shoppers' budgets.

But it said retailers were responding by ramping up promotions in a bid to attract customers.

According to the BRC-KPMG retail sales monitor, spending in July was dented by the damp weather, which "did no favours" to sales of clothing, and other seasonal goods.

BLACK MARK FOR 'BLACK SHEEP' Woke uni bans common phrases

STAFF at a leading university have been encouraged to ditch the phrases 'black sheep', 'blackball' or 'Indian summer'.

Academics at the University of Surrey have been given 'non-inclusive words and phrases to be aware of'.

These include swapping 'black sheep' for 'renegade', and to use 'ostracise' instead of 'blackball', to avoid causing offence.

The guidance, created by

Mental Health First Aid England, reads: "This guide aims to empower you to have supportive, inclusive conversations about race."

"Consider the origins and implications of the words you choose. Do they reinforce bias, or challenge it?"

"One way to help eliminate bias is to change our language to no longer use 'black' and 'dark' to mean 'bad'." Other phrases include swapping 'black and blue' for 'bruised'.

While academics should use 'warm autumn' or 'late summer; instead of 'Indian summer'.

The guidance is not university policy - but that the language document was published by an individual as 'good practice'.

Rapper's missus has it all on show in Italy

KAN YE NOT WEAR ANY CLOTHES PET?

FLASHING FLESH:
Bianca with Kanye

ITALIANS are waving their arms around in shock over the saucy outfits worn by Kanye West's missus.

Locals slammed Bianca Censori for wearing some extremely revealing gear during the couple's visit to Italy.

The architect, 28, arrived in the country with Kanye, 46, recently, and has stepped out on several occasions with her bare breasts visible under see-through outfits.

Disrespectful

Some Italians branded the Kim Kardashian lookalike's outfits "disrespectful" on social media, with others saying "immodest". Bianca and Kanye weren't welcome in a country known for its conservative catholic beliefs.

"We don't need this trash in Italy," one Italian user commented, while another branded Bianca's outfits as "classless" and "vulgar".

Users from other parts of the world echoed this sentiment, with one posting: "Planning a trip to Italy, I have read several times that Italians are very fashionable and are fairly conservative in their clothing choices. Wonder what they think of this exhibitionist?"

"The classy Italians won't be impressed that's for sure. What an absolute mess!" another wrote.

"This is sexy at home between adults, but trashy in public," another posted.

"Someone forgot to tell ex Reverend Kanye they are in a conservative catholic nation, not Miami or NYC!"

Ozzy in bother over Tweet

A TWEET by Ozzy Osbourne showing him gaming on a Sony PlayStation VR2 has been banned for failing to mention that it was an ad.

The tweet from Black Sabbath singer Osbourne's account in February read: "Did this spot with @PlayStation

The Advertising Standards Authority said British consumers should be made aware that a post was an advert before they engaged with it and it wasn't the case.

‘Bad dancer’ Adam buzzing for Strictly gig

BRITISH actor and TV presenter Adam Thomas is the latest celebrity contestant confirmed for Strictly Come Dancing 2023.

The 34-year-old, who played Adam Barton in soap Emmerdale and most recently reprised his role as Donte Charles in BBC One’s drama Waterloo Road, appeared in ITV’s I’m A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here in 2016 and went on to co-host the spin-off show I’m A Celebrity: Extra Camp.

He is the eighth contestant confirmed, after actress Amanda Abbington, Bad Education star Layton Williams, broadcaster Angela Rippon, journalist Krishnan Guru-Murthy, comedian Eddie Kadi, Irish TV presenter Angela Scanlon and former Love Island star Zara McDermott.

Thomas said: “I can’t dance to save my life but I’m buzzing to learn and work with a pro dancer.”

BUSTY Helen Flanagan sent fans wild in a plunging black leather mini dress on Insta to celebrate her 33rd birthday.

The former Coronation Street star showcased her sensational figure in the racy number from Agent Provocateur as she sat on a director’s chair in front of a stunning heart-shaped cake.

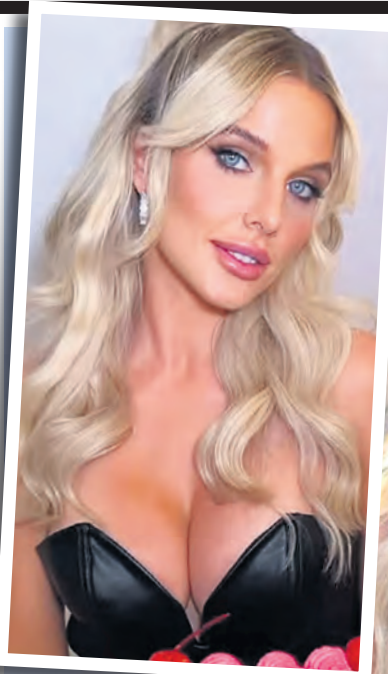

The mum-of-three flashed a huge diamond ring as she placed a birthday candle into her mouth and lit the end with a lighter.

She was then seen placing the candle into the cake which had the words “thirty three and thriving” written across the top.

The former I’m a Celebrity babe showed off her plump pout as she blew out the candle and beamed at the camera.

A fan said: “She’d be even more thriving with a dose of my cock medicine down her throat... grrr!”

But Helen’s not the only babe with lovely leathery parts, as you can see from these amazing shots...

Anne and Nick both fight cancer

NICK Owen has revealed that he is being supported by his BBC co-star Anne Diamond, as both breakfast TV legends battle cancer.

The former TV-am star, 75, announced the devastating news that he had been diagnosed with prostate cancer just weeks after his co-star revealed she is battling breast cancer and has undergone a mastectomy.

Speaking on BBC Breakfast, he said: "We have been cajoling each other."

"It is fantastic to have one another at this time but it's just so ironic that she and I, who are forever associated as a partnership, both have the quintessentially male and female cancer."

The broadcaster described the shock of finding out he has 'aggressive' prostate cancer as the 'worst day of his life' – but vowed to return to TV in the autumn.

Mr Owen said he had no symptoms and it "came out of the blue".

Vegan meat off the menu

VEGAN food firm Beyond Meat has seen its sales plunge by almost a third as the rising cost of living squeezes shoppers.

The plant-based meat substitute maker says net revenues fell by 30.5% for the three months to the end of June, compared to a year earlier.

Shares of the company fell by almost 12% in New York trading.

Last year, it announced plans to cut almost a fifth of its workforce to save $39m (£30.6m) of costs.

The company said it had been affected by "softer demand in the plant-based meat category, high inflation, rising interest rates, and ongoing concerns about the likelihood of a recession".

Demand has also been hit by an increased scrutiny of the health benefits of vegan products, Beyond Meat's chief executive Ethan Brown said.

Farmer crushed to death in bizarre cheese mishap THEY TRIED TO REVIVE HIM...BUT IT WAS NO GOUDA

By MILES PLATTING news@sundaysport.co.uk

A 74-YEAR-OLD dairy farmer got creamed when thousands of wheels of hard parmesan-style cheese collapsed on top of him.

Giacomo Chiapparini, the owner of the Chiapparini cheese-making company in Lombardy, Italy, was killed in the freak accident when giant shelves holding the 90lb wheels of grana padano cheese suddenly buckled.

Chiapparini was using a machine to rotate and clean the cheese wheels at various stages of ripening when one of the metal shelves caved in, creating a "domino effect," fireman Antonio Dusi said.

The storehouse, which had been stocked with 25,000 cheese wheels, was left wrecked.

Thousands of 90-pound cheese wheels, arranged in stacks of 20, tumbled to the ground from long, narrow shelves – some towering at 33 feet high – burying Chiapparini alive.

TRAGIC: Chiapparini

Deadly

An employee who was outside the warehouse around 9pm local time heard a loud noise and called for help.

Firemen and cops raced to the scene in Romano di Lombardia near Bergamo. It took the rescuers 12 hours to dig through the fallen cheese wheels piled high inside the 21,500-square-foot space.

Working through the night, first responders, aided by dogs, found Chiapparini's body.

The cause of the deadly accident is under investigation, but Bortolo Ghislotti, president of the local agricultural district, suggested the machine used to automatically clean the cheese may have malfunctioned, leading to the disaster. Ghislotti said that Chiapparini's family is now in a race against time to salvage the precious cheese and transfer them into warehouses of nearby businesses before they spoil in the summer heat.

"The family, his wife Angela and two children, can't understand what happened," Ghislotti said. "But now we are looking for some colleague willing to keep all the wheels... which otherwise would have to be thrown out."

The farmer has been producing the popular grana padano cheese since 2006.

A neighbour described the elderly cheesemaker as a man who worked day and night to support his family.

Chiapparini is also survived by his young grandchildren.

CONFESSIONS OF A CAM GIRL

By JULIETTE REYNOLDS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

CHANNEL Four got back to its smutty roots with a two-part documentary on webcam babes.

Delving into the lives of five cam girls, Confessions of a Cam Girl exposes their journey as they embrace their sexuality, navigate their careers, and bask in the lucrative allure of their profession.

With the explosion of online camming during lockdown, countless young women are now selling explicit shows and building empires from the comfort of their bedrooms.

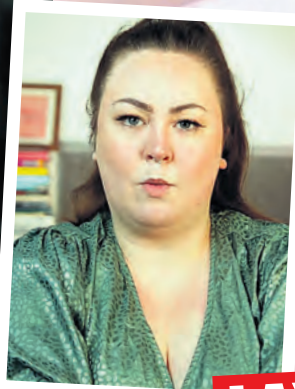

But in a saturated market, what does it take to thrive as a cam girl in modern-day Britain?

The five cam girls featured in the two one-hour programmes were determined to stand out and carve a niche for themselves in this competitive realm.

Maya, 22, has spent the last two years camming from her bedroom after abandoning her medical degree to pursue camming as a full-time career, garnering tremendous support from her mother and grandma. Her success empowers her to give financial support to her family, but excessive work hours are beginning to take a toll on her.

Sarah, a 32-year-old single mum of three, turned to camming when her relationship ended, seeking to secure an income for herself and her children.

Both episodes are available to watch online on Channel4.com

The 51-year-old (above) said: "One night I was getting ready to have an intimate moment with my ex."

Rhymes said that he began having a "really difficult time breathing" after the moment, adding: "I got up and I walked out of the bedroom, so she wouldn't panic seeing me trying to keep myself calm."

"I was trying to inhale and it felt like it wasn't working."

"That was scaring me so much that it was a mindfk, because I had to stay calm and make sure she didn't hear me panic or hear me struggle to breathe."

"I felt like I was having an asthma attack, but I don't have asthma."

The Touch It star, who weighed more than 24 stone in 2019, is now gearing up to tour with fellow rapper 50 Cent, and is currently shredding to get stage-ready.

Three dead after mushroom lunch

A WOMAN whose lethal mushroom lunch killed three family members, including her former mother-in-law, has denied any wrongdoing.

Erin Patterson, 48, hosted a dinner with her former in-laws, Gail and Don Patterson, along with Gail's sister, Heather Wilkinson, and her hubby Ian at home in Leongatha, Australia, on July 29.

All four guests became ill after they ate their meal, which included hand-picked mushrooms.

They went to hospital the next day as their condition worsened, with the two sisters, aged 70 and 66, dying on Friday.

Don, 70, died on the following night.

Ian, 68, remains in a critical condition in hospital and is waiting for a liver transplant.

An emotional Erin said: "I didn't do anything... I loved them and I'm devastated they're gone."

OPEN AND SHUT CASE!

CHARGED:
William Lowe and (below) dead wife Aydil Fontes

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

AN OAP was arrested after he shot his wife, dismembered her with a chainsaw and stuffed the remains into five suitcases that he tossed into the sea.

William Lowe Jr, 78, has been charged with first-degree murder and abuse of a human body in connection to the brutal death of 80-year-old Aydil Barbosa Fontes, his wife of 15 years, cops in Delray Beach, Florida said.

Officers had been hunting down the suspected killer since they found the first of five large bags containing the body parts of a woman last month in the city's Intracoastal Waterway.

A witness called police after seeing the first suitcase with a "human foot protruding through the zipper".

The suitcase contained the victim's legs and several landscaping rocks.

Two other suitcases containing the woman's torso and pelvis, as well as rocks and barnacles, were found over the next few hours.

The next day, investigators found Aydil's head stuffed inside a tote bag secured with a man's belt and her handbag with a "strong smell of decomposition".

Lowe has neither admitted nor denied killing his wife, but told investigators she travelled to Brazil three weeks earlier.

Police zeroed in on the elderly Floridian after tracking down several surveillance videos of him acting suspiciously at the scenes where the bags were found.

Cops later found a chainsaw which contained pieces of flesh, bone, blood and hair, tucked away inside a nearby storage unit belonging to Lowe.

Police have not revealed a motive for the savage killing, but said they are "very certain" Lowe is responsible.

Drunk wanted sex with WPC

A DRUNK who asked a female police officer where he could find a prostitute who looked like her has been jailed.

Derek Thomson, 46, appeared at Falkirk Sheriff Court having pleaded guilty to several offences, including making sexual remarks towards a female police officer, in Camelon on August 15, 2021.

After he was found slumped and intoxicated Thomson shouted and swore at police officers and also told a female officer he was going to have sex with her, adding: "I can't even look at you as I'm getting so horny."

Thomson, of Camelon, was sent to prison for 14 months and placed on the Sex Offenders' Register for seven years.

UNDERFIRE LIZZO LOSES INSTA FANS

INSTAGRAM users are deserting singer Lizzo after she was accused of sexual harassment.

Lizzo's official Insta account has lost nearly 220,000 followers since three former backup dancers sued her over alleged sexual harassment, a hostile work environment, and for pressuring them to participate in sex shows.

Former dancers Arianna Davis, Crystal Williams, and Noelle Rodriguez filed a lawsuit against the Grammy Award-winning star, Big Grrrl Big Touring, and dance captain Shirlene Quigley.

According to statistics site Social Blade, Lizzo (left) has lost 219,570 Insta followers since the suit was filed on August 1.

The About Damn Time singer lost nearly 170,000 Instagram followers before she even responded to the alarming claims.

Despite the legal row, as of Sunday, Lizzo – real name Melissa Jefferson – still boasts 13.3m Insta followers.

Lizzo has denied any wrongdoing.

'Doing it with complete strangers turns me on'

...WITH VERONICA
DA SOUZA,
34D, FROM PRAGUE

THIS is going to sound really slutty but what really turns me on is the thought of random sex with strangers!

My fantasies are quite wild – they're about going dogging down some country lane, or getting it on with people I don't know in sex clubs. I'm still young and there is plenty of time to settle down. So the thought of being with just the one guy sounds like a snooze fest right now.

Humans are hardwired for variety and I think monogamy is not that natural. I love that moment when you know you're about to get it on with someone for the first time... it's a real dopamine hit.

I have had some of the hottest sex with strangers – I once matched with a cute guy off Tinder and 30 minutes later we were shagging in a graveyard!

I didn't know his surname, or what he did for a living. It was pure, unadulterated naughty fun!

I'm not ready for a relationship right now, unless it's one where the other person is fine with me going out and getting up to naughty fun like that!

'Tranny beer' advert was a grave mistake

A DESCENDENT of the Budweiser beer founders says that his ancestors would have "rolled in their graves" if they knew the beer company gave a case of booze to a transgender influencer.

Billy Busch said that the ad campaign with Dylan Mulvaney (above) would have been an outrage to Adolphus Busch, who died in 1913.

"I think my family, my ancestors, would have rolled over in their graves," he said.

"They loved the US because it is a free country and people are allowed to do what they want, but it was never meant to be on a beer can and never meant to be pushed in people's faces."

Busch commented on the PR fiasco that followed the Mulvaney stunt, which is thought to have cost the firm £315m in revenue.

Initially, the firm sent a case of Bud Light to the TikTok influencer with her face plastered all over the cans – a move that backfired and alienated many customers.

Hunt for knob wipe intruder

COPS are investigating after a couple woke to find a naked intruder in their home, who stole their daughter's bra and rubbed his knob on a neighbour's car.

Heather Dumais woke in the early hours and saw the man in her bedroom, wearing only shoes, a face mask, and a cap.

She nudged partner Jason Graham awake and he chased the man downstairs and outside into nearby woods.

The couple believe the intruder stole Heather's purse, a photograph of a daughter, and another daughter's worn bra.

Locals in Kingswood, Texas, reviewed home security cameras and found a number of videos of the intruder in the area.

CCTV shows him checking the front doors of several homes, and when he could not get into one property, he rubbed his genitals on the car in the driveway before moving on.

Gym babes thank reality star for trend

KHLOE K & THE NO-PANTIES WORKOUT CRAZE

SNURGER'S PARADISE: Khloe goes commando at the gym

CELEBS can be blamed for starting all sorts of stupid fads...

But for this one, we can cheer Khloe Kardashian to the rooftops.

Because the reality star has popularised ladies going to the gym with NO PANTIES under their gym shorts.

And that means there are CAMEL TOES a-plenty!

The fad broke into the open when fitness influencer Laura Henshaw talked to podcast co-host and fellow fitness influencer Steph Claire-Smith.

"Do you wear undies with your workout gear?" Laura asked on their podcast KIC.

"Yes! I had to ask you this, too," Steph confirmed.

Sweaty

"I know people who don't," Steph confessed. "Wait, are you about to tell me you don't?" She questioned.

Laura quickly confirmed that she does wear undies when she pops on her gym tights for a hot and sweaty workout.

The conversation lit up Twitter when it was posted online.

"Underwear is made for a reason," someone

By ANNE COATES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

who clearly gets a sticky cleft when working out commented.

"I sweat way too much," another said.

"I can't think of anything creepier than dudes at the gym knowing that I'm not wearing underwear," someone noted.

Then influencer Ellie Gonsalves, who has over a million followers had her say.

"I don't! Much more comfortable and no lines under my pants," she commented.

The hot and sticky confessions didn't end there.

She shared that Khloe Kardashian, yes, the reality star herself, was the one who got her on to not wearing undies for a workout.

"Khloe Kardashian told me not to do it! So I did and haven't looked back."

Bella's queen of the underboob!

BELLA Thorne proved she's Queen of the Underboob by revealing her lower tit in a pair of saucy snaps.

The 25-year-old actress left very little to the imagination as she posed for a mirror selfie while wearing the white top.

Another top strained to hold in her boobs in a pic shared on Instagram.

A fan said: "She looks dirty... dirty in a good way, of course."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

ON Saturday, the fifth most important story headlined on the BBC News website was that a bloke most of us have never heard of was taking part in the next series of Strictly Come Dancing.

There was no space in the headline to mention that Angela Rippon, 78, who everyone has heard of, is also taking part in the show.

Then again, the bloke is a host of ultra-woke Channel 4 News, while evergreen Angela is a presenter on GB News.

And still Auntie Beeb solemnly pretends that it is not biased...

Always plenty of money for little Hitlers

It must be so tough at the top.

Sauntering around the vast number of offices in London's Whitehall, earning staggering amounts of taxpayer-funded money just to tell those same taxpayers how to live.

Think of the £100,000+-a-year Westminster mandarins hellbent on forcing us to give up such outrageous possessions as cars, and household boilers.

The endless numbers of Little Hitlers in town halls – also on your payroll – who refuse to fix the potholes in your local roads because of “Tory scum” (copyright: Angela Rayner) but can always find millions to keep their eco-terrorist friends off their backs.

No, you can't have your bins emptied once a week.

How dare you! But yes, we can still afford to buy lots of hi-vis jackets and install street cameras that can silently stare straight into your living room or send you fines for driving at 21mph.

Think ludicrous anti-car zones given pretty acronyms like ULEZ and LTN.

Think people like the Lib Dems banging on about the obvious desperate need for more housing across the country while the councils it actually runs are constantly turning down planning applications.

Think of that idiot last week who suggested people in their 50s and older should consider exciting new careers riding bicycles to deliver pizzas to people who can't even be arsed working, never mind shopping with the free money we give them.

(I can 100% guarantee that the Tory MP Mel Stride, the dickhead who came up with this, does not live at the bottom of a very steep hill, like I do).

And then think – or at least try to get your head around it – about this mystical thing that has nothing whatsoever to do with you and me called “inflation”.

It's the deliberately unfathomable situation whereby the Government and the banks fk everything up economy-wise – “you had one job” etc – but then blame you and me for it.

Overspending

Thanks to massively overspending on The Big Bad Cold, sprinkled with war in Ukraine, it's why mortgages and rents and shop prices and energy bills have all shot through the roof.

To tackle this, we all need a pay rise just to cope and – in many cases – just to survive.

And almost everyone on the public payroll – paid for by the rest of us, along with their pensions – is getting one.

But many in the private sector are not.

Because, say ministers, sadly shaking their heads, that would mean we might spend more.

And all us unwashed types spending more leads to, er... more inflation.

Understand?

No?

Nor do I...

Wife accused of poisoning hubby's brew

A WOMAN has been accused of trying to kill her husband by poisoning his coffee with bleach, after he set up spycams in their home to catch her.

Melody Felicano Johnson (above) allegedly poured a toxic substance into her hubby Roby's morning coffee at their home on multiple occasions.

He believes she was doing it to try and cash in on his life insurance.

She faces charges of first-degree attempted murder, attempting to commit aggravated assault, and poisoning food or drink.

Roby Johnson was stationed in Germany for work with the US Air Force in March when he thought his coffee started tasting "very bad".

His wife would prep the drink the night before, so in a morning he just had to turn the coffee machine on.

Because of his suspicions, he also bought swimming pool testing strips and found they showed high levels of chlorine when dipped in his coffee.

Melody is being held at the Pima County Jail and is due to appear in court next month.

Hookers first to spot crisis in economy

EVEN hookers are feeling the pinch as the global cost-of-living crisis continues to bite.

Jenna Love is a Sydney, Australia-based escort, and she is currently watching her industry adapt to new strained financial times.

When you are a vice girl, you are relying on people having a disposable income, so Jenna saw the cost-of-living crisis coming from a mile away.

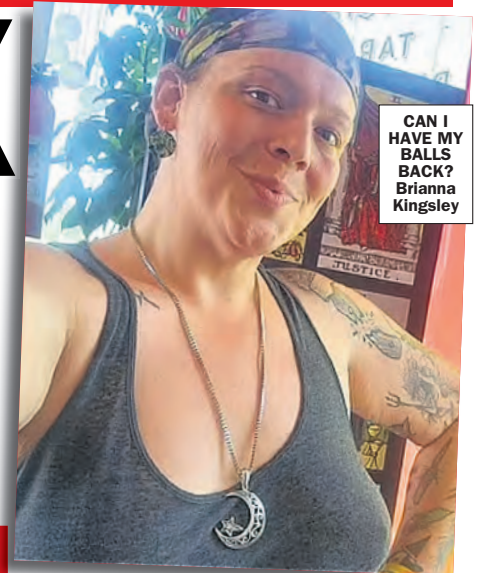

"We feel the pinch with this stuff quite early on," she said.

She also flagged early the trend of Gen Z staying at home longer after chatting with her younger clients.

"Folk in their twenties, they don't see how they could move out."

ANOTHER MAD SAGA FROM THE WACKY WORLD OF SEX-SWAPS...

ANGRY EX STOLE MY BOLLOCKS

CAN I HAVE MY BALLS BACK? Brianna Kingsley

By BRAD CHADWICK news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SEX-swap case is demanding the return of his testicles he claims his ex-boyfriend has in a jar in his fridge.

Post-op Brianna Kingsley said that former partner William Wojciechowski, of Pontiac, Michigan, is holding onto the body parts removed in a sex-swap.

In a counter complaint, Mr. Wojciechowski claims Kingsley stole his pet pooches.

Kingsley, 40, has demanded the return of the testes plus damages of more than £5,000.

Wojciechowski, 37, has asserted, however, that his former partner "picked up all her possessions when they broke up", and insisted he's entitled to keep the bollocks.

Wojciechowski said: "I'll be telling my lawyer about this because it's getting ridiculous. I don't owe her anything."

"She's been harassing me since we broke up."

According to social media profiles, Kingsley now goes by an Arabic name and appears to have converted to Islam.

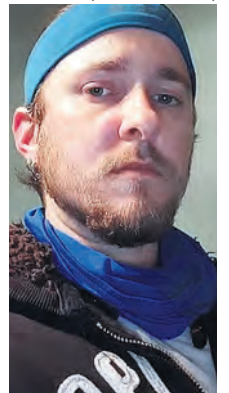

Abused

In an earlier post from Wojciechowski, he claims Kingsley also stole and abused his pet dogs.

"The person that confirmed to me that Brianna took the dogs, brought them to their house the day she took them to get some dog supplies," he wrote in a post after his dogs were returned.

"They called me today on my lunch break to tell me that they talked some sense into Brianna into returning the dogs to me."

"That same person

EX: William Wojciechowski

drove my dogs back home to me.

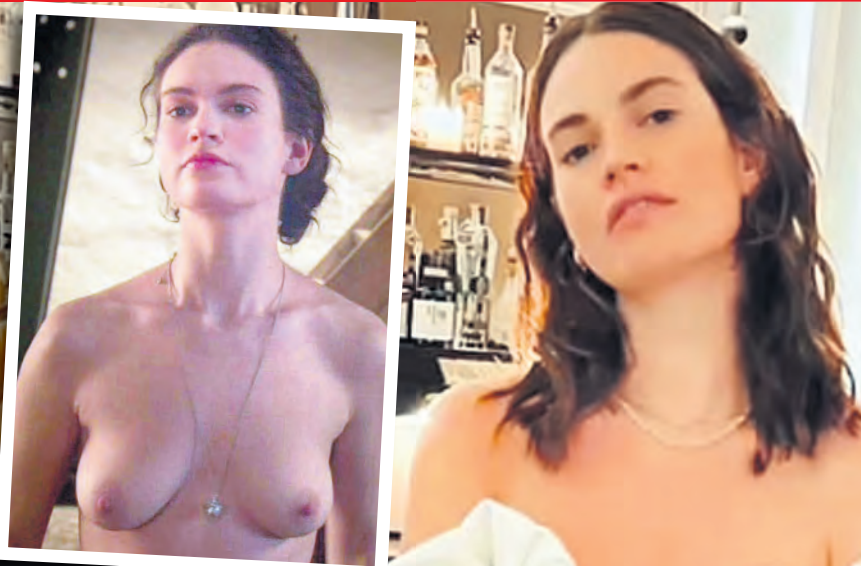

"I'm still moving forward with the charges against Brianna."

He went on to say by stealing his pets that Kingsley "violated the personal protection order" he has taken out against her.

"She needs to be held accountable for her actions no matter what. The dogs are OK, but they do show more fear and aggression since they were taken," he said.

"Especially Butch. He keeps pulling his head up and away when I try to pet under his chin."

"Which tells me that his whining and barking triggered Brianna and she punished him for it."

LILY James dressed to impress in a plunging white off the shoulder dress as she posed for a glamorous Instagram snap during a luxury getaway.

The Brit actress, 34, looked incredible in the number which boasted stunning puff sleeves and a daring thigh high slit.

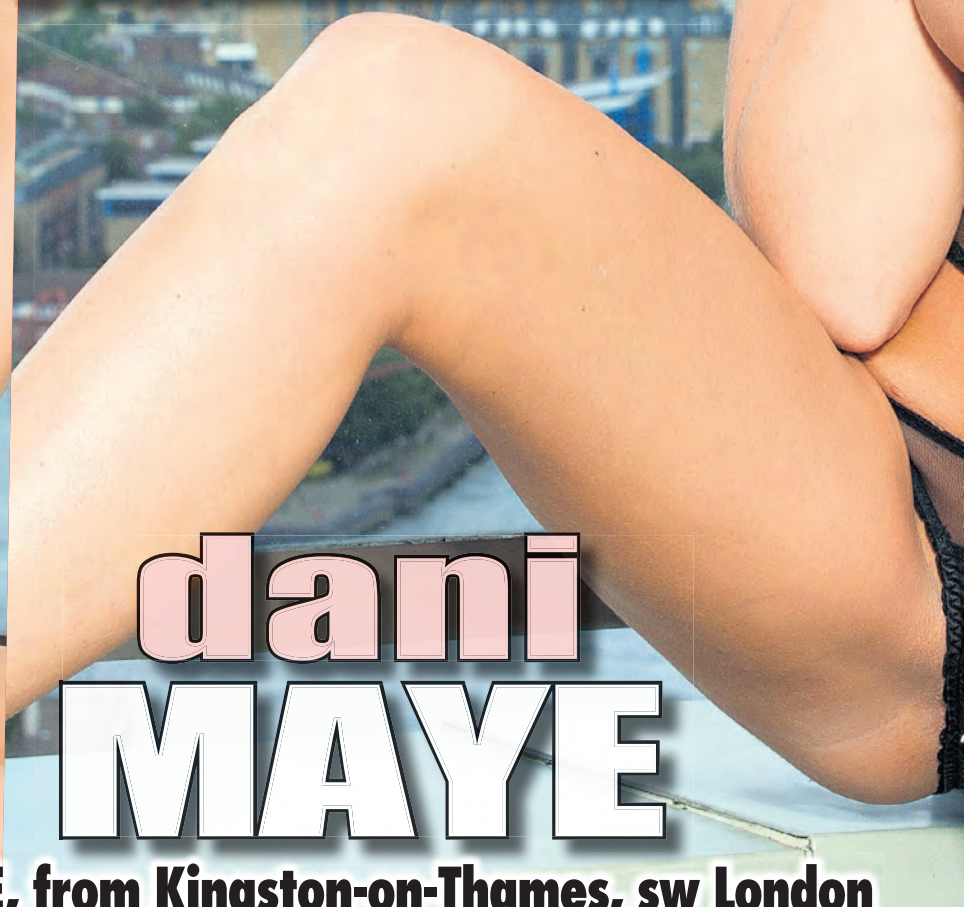

An onlooker said: "I'd love to get my snorter in her slit!"

Thigh's the limit for Lily!

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Kelly,

I WENT on the piss last week and pulled a Dutch student who recently came over here for a university course starting next month.

She's blonde with a cracking body – big tits and a lovely arse – and she had a very liberal attitude towards sex!

On the first night I shagged her, we did everything – oral, 69er, doggy-style and even ANAL!

I started off by undressing her and then licking her out. She was loving it as I slurped away at her love-tunnel and it wasn't long before I'd got her juices flowing.

I brought her to orgasm then she made a grab for my cock, pulling it out of my jeans and sucking hard on it.

She was begging me to take her from behind and I eased myself into her gash. But after only a couple of minutes she demanded I stick my dick in her bumhole!

I couldn't believe it! Are all European birds this filthy?
GT, Glasgow

Kelly says...

YES – and the Germans are even kinkier!

Dear Kelly,

MY girlfriend and her filthy mate put on a bit of a lesbo show for me a couple of weeks ago and I ended up boning them BOTH.

Me and the missus got chatting ages ago, after one of our wild sex sessions, about trying a threesome at some point.

Thankfully, she was up for doing it with another bird and quickly arranged for her fit pal to make up the numbers.

When we got down to business, I slipped into her mate from behind while she was licking my bird out.

They then changed over and I did my bird while she was fingering her mate.

The problem is that my girlfriend's mate is so much better in bed than she is. I've shagged her on her own a few times and she was absolute filth.

I'd now like to move in with her, but I don't really want to ruin a relationship which has lasted a long time. What should I do?
FT, Yorkshire

Kelly says...

THE wise thing to do would be to stay with your girlfriend, but I dare say you will do whatever you want.

While the hubby's away the randy wife will play

Dear Kelly,

I OFTEN visit a company run by a husband-and-wife team to help with their computer systems.

When I arrived last week the hubby was out on business and the wife was wearing a skimpy low-cut top.

When she bent over I couldn't fail to notice her round tits and pert nipples.

She smiled and encouraged me to massage her tits while she stroked the bulge in my trousers.

I put my hand up her skirt and inserted two fingers straight up her fanny and worked away until she climaxed.

She then said she wanted to watch me wank. She slid off her knickers and spread her legs while I beat one off.

I have to go back in a couple of weeks and can't afford to lose the contract – which I will if the hubby finds out.

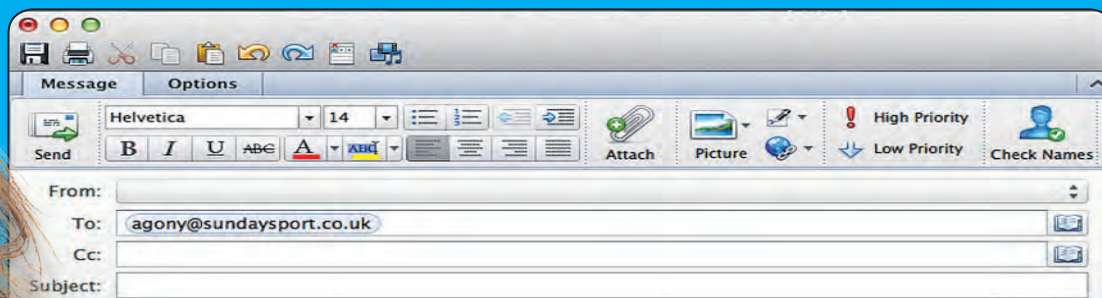

PW, Southampton

Kelly says...

PROGRAMME her to be careful.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY McGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Park nookie spy was our son's girlfriend!

Dear Kelly,

I WAS inspired to try a sex session with the missus in our local park after reading about the fun and games that other people get up to.

They seem to get off on having sex in public places and I thought my wife might enjoy it.

We're both in our 40s and our children have grown up and moved out, which means we can experiment with nookie again.

When I mentioned doing it in the park, she really got into the idea.

She settled on a pair of long black boots with a loose knee-length skirt and overcoat – and no underwear at all!

It was just going dark and on the walk to the park I managed to get my hand up my wife's skirt. Judging by her soaking fanny, she was as turned on as I was.

In the park I sat on one of the swings and my wife got down on her knees and gave me a slow and sensuous blowjob.

Then she lowered her skirt and straddled me on the swing. We managed to get quite a rhythm going as we swung back and forth.

Slippery

At this point I caught sight of a young woman over my wife's shoulder, standing under a tree watching us.

So I pulled my wife's arse cheeks as wide apart as I could to give her a better view of my big, fat cock thrusting in and out of her.

The woman hitched up her own skirt and got her hand in her knickers.

I was so turned on by this, I quickly sent my load deep into my wife's dripping pussy.

That's when my wife also spotted the young woman and decided to give her a real show by bending over the slide and slowly fingering her slippery fanny.

I thought she'd stop when the woman came over, but instead my wife ordered her to get her tongue in.

It was a fantastic sight as I sat there and watched. But when I took a closer look at the young woman's face, I got a shock as I realised it was our son's latest girlfriend.

Now I'm worried that she'll tell our lad what we were up to.

CB, Nottingham

Kelly says...

WHY worry? He might be proud of you for having a shag in the park at your age.

Dear Kelly,

I'M a 24-year-old builder who has been working on some new flats in a posh part of town.

A woman next to the site seemed to be regularly at her window and it was clear she was ogling me.

We got chatting and she invited me in for a sandwich. But it was clear that more was on offer.

She said she was divorced and hadn't had sex for ages. And she said it was her fantasy to shag a hairy-arsed builder.

She's 40 and a curvy 36D with long black hair.

Normally, I think of myself as a sensitive lover who always puts the woman first.

But this time, I grabbed her roughly and stuck my tongue down her throat.

Then I unzipped and coaxed her head down and she took my bulging cock in her mouth.

Then she hitched up her skirt to reveal no knickers and a neatly-trimmed bush.

I talked dirty to her as I pushed her over the sofa and then plunged deep into her fanny.

Since then I've been for a shag at hers most days. But when I offered to take her out for a meal, she said she wouldn't be seen dead with a builder!

DD, Manchester

Kelly says...

SO she wants a physical relationship with you and nothing else. Enjoy!

Gutbucket swinger rode me like a hippo

Dear Kelly,

MY wife and I were looking to join a swingers' club and I made contact with one in our area – where the pictures of the women looked great.

We went to a party at the home of the club's chairman, but I quickly noticed the women there were all pretty ugly or really fat.

I asked the chairman about the women I had seen on the website and he said they were former members.

My wife, however, seemed to be enjoying herself and she soon went upstairs with the chairman, who was grinning like a Cheshire fking cat!

Then a fat bird waddled into the kitchen and eyed me up. To be honest, I don't normally go for women who are larger than a size 10, I simply can't stand the sight of all that flabby flesh when I'm banging a bird.

Pounded

Anyway, this gutbucket turned out to be the chairman's wife, so I thought "fk it" when she got hold of me and led me upstairs.

When she stripped off her kit to reveal her five bellies I felt a bit sick, but stuck with it.

Then she took out her false teeth, sucked me until I was semi-hard and hopped on my poor old man and rode me like a hippo.

Afterwards I escaped to find my wife and watched as the chairman gleefully pounded her.

I never want to go again, but my wife loved it and wants us to go every bloody week!

What should I do?

RF, Devon

Kelly says...

TRY a different swingers' club.

REID

STUNNING Amy Reid has a filthy confession to make – she once shagged her middle-aged window cleaner!

The 34EE babe, who hails from Dusseldorf in Germany, said she'd spent months building up to the shag before finally taking his cock deep inside her.

She said: "I kept flashing him whenever he did the windows and over about six months I got more and more risqué until I let him watch me shag myself with a big dildo.

"The next time I was so excited at the thought of him seeing me masturbate I actually needed a real cock and told him to come inside.

"I put on a live show for him before he whipped out his knob and slipped it inside me.

"I orgasmed twice before he pulled out and showered me with his jizz."

briony MURRAY

SOLDIER Briony Murray was grilled by her superiors after hundreds of her saucy photos and videos were found on X-rated sites online – including one of her posing with her regimental tie.

Briony showed off her svelte figure in various snaps, which got top brass feeling a bit hot under the collar.

The steamy snaps show the babe topless or in lingerie and feature on various nude sites, where she used different names.

The photo shoots and videos were shot before the 26-year-old joined the army.

However, most still remain online – including one profile where she is listed as 'Briony M', with a bio which states that she started her nude modelling career in 2013.

Her racy past shocked colleagues at the time, with one commenting that "the Army hires all sorts".

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

KATIE RICHMOND

WE'VE had stacks of requests begging us to print a nostalgic snap of Katie Richmond's 34C assets.

Salford taxi driver Gary Hart was one of many readers asking for a photo of the model, from Mottram, Tameside to enjoy.

He said Katie is his all-time favourite pin-up and it would make his day to see her with her norks out.

Gary, 42, said: "Please can you answer my prayers? Katie is a fave of mine and it's been ages since I saw a photo of her topless."

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls – you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

RACHEL COLE

LOVELY Rachel Cole was the choice of student Harry Jackson after he bumped into her on a night out on the Toon.

Newcastle student Harry, 20, couldn't stop staring at Rachel when he spotted the 32C beauty partying away in the North East city.

He said: "I need to see more of Rachel as she looked sensational when I saw her dancing proper sexy and stuff."

"But I'm certain she'll look better without her clothes on. Make my day!"

KAREN WHITE

THIS stunning shot of Derbyshire-born babe Karen White comes at the request of reader Tom Matterson.

Tom, 57, from Ipswich, emailed asking for a photo of the pin-up star's 34Ds to add to his collection of topless babes he has stuck on the inside of his lorry cab.

Thomas said: "I'm always on the road and photos of all my favourite Sport girls through the ages keep me going."

"I have a huge collection stuck to the inside of my cab but one I'm missing is Karen. Help us out, eh?"

REUNION: John McGinn

Hibs await for McGinn and Villa

ASTON Villa captain John McGinn is in line for an Easter Road return after his side were paired with Hibernian or Luzern in the Europa Conference League play-offs.

The Scotland midfielder will be back in Leith on August 24 if Hibs can get past the Swiss side in the third qualifying round.

McGinn spent three years with Hibs and helped them win the Scottish Cup in 2016 for the first time in 114 years, before moving to Villa in 2018.

The Champions League draw earlier saw Rangers set up for a potential reunion of their own after they were paired against PSV Eindhoven or Sturm Graz if they progress.

The Ibrox side were seeded in the draw but must first get past Swiss side Servette, who travel to Glasgow on Wednesday in the first leg of the third qualifying round.

The Gers beat PSV 3-2 on aggregate at the same stage last year to reach the group stage, with Antonio Colak grabbing the winner when he netted the only goal of the second leg in the Netherlands.

Sturm Graz have included former Motherwell wing-back Max Johnston in their European squad, although he has only featured for the second team since his recent move.

Rangers would be at home in the first leg of the play-offs, which take place in the final two weeks of August. Defeat against Servette would see them go straight into the Europa League group stage.

Aberdeen could also face a rematch with recent opponents after being paired with either BK Hacken or Lithuanians Zalgiris Vilnius in the Europa League play-offs. The Dons beat the Swedes 5-1 at Pittodrie two years ago.

Barry Robson's team are assured of group-stage football as they will drop into the Europa Conference League if they lose.

Also in the Conference League, Hearts will take on Croatians Hajduk Split or Greek side PAOK if they can get past Rosenborg.

Derry City will face Czech side Viktoria Plzen or Gzira United of Malta if they can see off Tobol Kostanay of Kazakhstan.

Play-off ties take place over the last two weeks in August.

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE WOMEN

LAUREN LOST HER EMOTIONS

England manager backs James after she saw red in feisty Nigeria victory

ENGLAND manager Sarina Wiegman admitted "sweetest person" Lauren James "lost her emotions" as she received a red card that could see the 21-year-old miss the remainder of the World Cup.

The Lionesses advanced to the quarter-finals after surviving James' dismissal late in the second half to beat Nigeria on penalties, with Euro 2022 hero Chloe Kelly scoring the winning spot-kick in a 4-2 shoot-out success.

James' brace and two assists earned her player-of-the-match honours against China, but this time she was sent off after it was ruled she had deliberately stepped on the back of Nigeria defender Michelle Alozie with three minutes of normal time remaining of a game that ended goalless after 120 minutes.

Wiegman, who had not watched the incident back, said: "She's an inexperienced player on this stage and has done really well, and I think in a split second she just lost her emotions."

"And of course she doesn't want to hurt anyone. She's the sweetest person I know, and things happen like that and you can't change it anymore, so it's a huge lesson for her to learn, but of course it's not something that she really did on purpose."

Wiegman said she personally delivered a similar speech to James, adding: "Of course she apologised and she felt really, really bad."

James became the fourth England player to be sent off in a World Cup knockout match after David Beckham, Wayne Rooney and current England captain Millie Bright, who was shown a second yellow against the United States in the 2019 semi-finals.

Chelsea forward James, who made her World Cup debut against Haiti, faces at minimum a one-match ban, but that could be extended by FIFA's disciplinary committee to three which would see her miss the rest of the tournament even if the Lionesses reach the final.

Cramping

England's spirits were high to begin Monday night's contest in Brisbane, where midfielder Keira Walsh made a remarkable return from what many thought was a tournament-ending knee injury 10 days ago against Denmark.

Walsh played 120 minutes against Nigeria before being substituted but Wiegman said: "She was cramping a little bit, so we had to take her off, but she's OK."

Wiegman benefitted from a healthy side en route to England's Euro 2022 triumph, but after dealing with multiple injury problems in the run-up to the tournament and coping without key presence Walsh and now breakout talent James, she admitted: "I have never experienced so many problems, but of course it's my job to think of things that can happen in a game or in a tournament or ahead of the tournament."

"So you try to turn every stone, and then try to already think of a solution if things happen, and today we got totally tested on those turned stones."

Nigeria had impressed throughout the group stage and were no different against England, twice hitting the crossbar and frustrating the Lionesses by employing a higher

N'S WORLD CUP DOWN UNDER

press for this vital knockout encounter.

But England held on in James' absence to ensure their destiny would be decided by spot-kicks, with Bethany England, Rachel Daly, Alex Greenwood and Kelly all scoring after Georgia Stanway fired the first wide.

"I'm really proud of the team," added Wiegman. "We've had many setbacks. I think this (James red card) was a big one too.

Contract

"We had to reorganise and do something else on the pitch and we didn't need any minute to do so.

"And of course players got really, really tired, but we really stuck together and showed a lot of resilience."

England's players will rally round Lauren James after her "Beckhamesque moment of madness".

Former men's national team striker Gary Lineker likened the 21-year-old Chelsea forward's red card for standing on Michelle Alozie to Beckham's kick-out at Argentina's Diego Simeone at the 1998 World Cup.

"Lionesses down to 10 as Lauren James has a Beckhamesque moment of madness," Lineker wrote on Twitter.

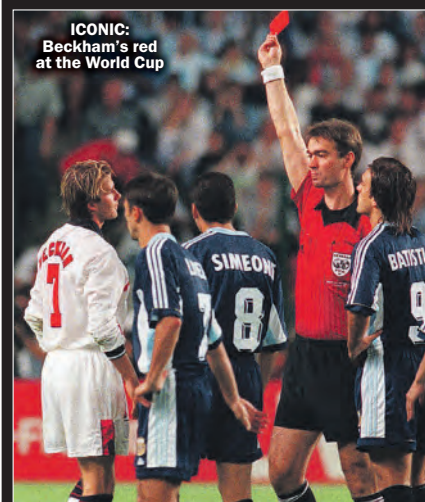

Team-mate Lauren Hemp said: "It's things that happen in football, it's not nice to see a red card but I felt like going down to 10 players we dealt with it very well, we were super-resilient and didn't let them score.

"It's one of those things. We will get around Lauren James in the coming days, she's still very young."

SURPRISED: Serena Wiegman

ICONIC: Beckham's red at the World Cup

Lions aces who got an early bath

LAUREN James became the fourth England player to be sent off in a World Cup knockout match after her red against Nigeria.

The 21-year-old suffered the same fate as David Beckham, Wayne Rooney and Millie Bright on the world stage.

Here, we look at those who saw red in white.

DAVID BECKHAM V ARGENTINA, 1998

England were drawing 2-2 with their fierce rivals from South America when, two minutes after half-time, Beckham was shoved to the ground by Argentina henchman Diego Simeone.

As he was lying face down on the pitch, the Manchester United midfielder petulantly swung his right leg at the perpetrator.

It was hardly the crime of the century but it occurred right in front of referee Kim Morten Nielsen, who booked Simeone before swapping cards and giving Beckham his marching orders.

The 10 players of England managed to hold out for a 2-2 draw but lost on penalties, with Beckham made the scapegoat for their exit in the last 16.

WAYNE ROONEY V PORTUGAL, 2006

Rooney was tussling for the ball with Ricardo Carvalho when he left the sole of his boot in the groin of the Portugal defender.

Cristiano Ronaldo, Rooney's then-Manchester United team-mate, led the protests towards referee Horacio Marcelo Elizondo, who initially looked set to take no further action after awarding a free-kick.

Rooney shoved Ronaldo away before Elizondo brandished the red card, prompting the famous wink towards the bench from the Portugal superstar.

Again, England held out for more than half an hour

OFF: Millie Bright in 2019

a player down to force penalties after a goalless draw. And again, they lost the shoot-out to exit in the quarter-finals.

MILLIE BRIGHT V USA, 2019

England were 2-1 down, had seen a goal disallowed and missed a penalty when, in the 86th minute, centre-half Bright made another heavy challenge on USA goalscorer Alex Morgan.

Having already been booked for a crunching tackle on the striker in the first half, Bright was shown a second yellow to become the first woman to be sent off for England at a World Cup.

It was a deflating semi-final exit for the Lionesses, while the USA went on to lift the trophy in France, with England eventually finishing fourth.

LAUREN JAMES V NIGERIA, 2023

There were echoes of Beckham and Rooney when England's young star, Chelsea forward James, trod on the back of Nigeria's Michelle Alozie.

James was initially booked for the 87th-minute incident but the replays were not pretty and, after a VAR review, it was upgraded to a red.

England held out through extra time for a goalless draw and, for a change, won the penalty shoot-out to go through to the quarter-finals.

Quinalt up for Cup as he eyes seven in a row

QUINALT could bid to extend his remarkable winning sequence to seven at the Dubai Duty Free Shergar Cup on Saturday.

Having begun the season with a rating of just 59, the Stuart Williams-trained three-year-old has rattled off six successive victories, seeing his mark rise to a much loftier perch of 97.

Mill Stream, who was beaten a nose by Quinault in a valuable sprint at Newmarket's July meeting, gave the form a significant boost with a dominant Listed success in France on Sunday.

Williams though is looking at another handicap for his fast-improving speedster and views Saturday's Dubai Duty Free Shergar Cup Sprint as a suitable target. "I've been very happy with him since the July meeting, he's been training well," he said.

"I've just entered him for the Shergar Cup on Saturday in the six-furlong race for three-year-olds only. Hopefully that will be his next port of call."

With jockeys in the Shergar Cup allocated by a series of ballots, Williams will have no say in who rides Quinault.

But with world-class riders like Frankie Dettori, Olivier Peslier, Tom Marquand and Hollie Doyle among those set to be in action, the Newmarket-based trainer is not overly concerned.

He added: "They've got some top-class jockeys, so you'd be hopeful whoever rides him will be able to ride him fine. He's not a difficult ride."

"He's surprised us – you wouldn't have said at the start of the season he'd have a rating pushing 100 at this stage of the year."

"He hasn't run on anything softer than good, but it's usually fairly good on the straight course at Ascot and it's supposed to be dry towards the end of the week so I can't see it being a problem."

Meanwhile, ground

TRAINER: Williams

conditions will dictate whether Mick Appleby supplements Ascot and Goodwood hero Big Evs for the Nunthorpe at York.

The two-year-old was a Royal Ascot winner when landing the Windsor Castle Stakes in mid-June, sprinting to three-length victory having started a relative outsider at 20-1.

He was not overlooked when stepping up to Group Three level in the Molecomb at Goodwood, where he started as the 9-4 joint favourite on ground vastly different to Ascot's good to firm. Rain had left the Downs track soft, but Big Evs showed a great will to win by a neck from Andrew Balding's Purosangue.

Connections discussed an entry for the Group One Nunthorpe on August 25, which would cost £40,000.

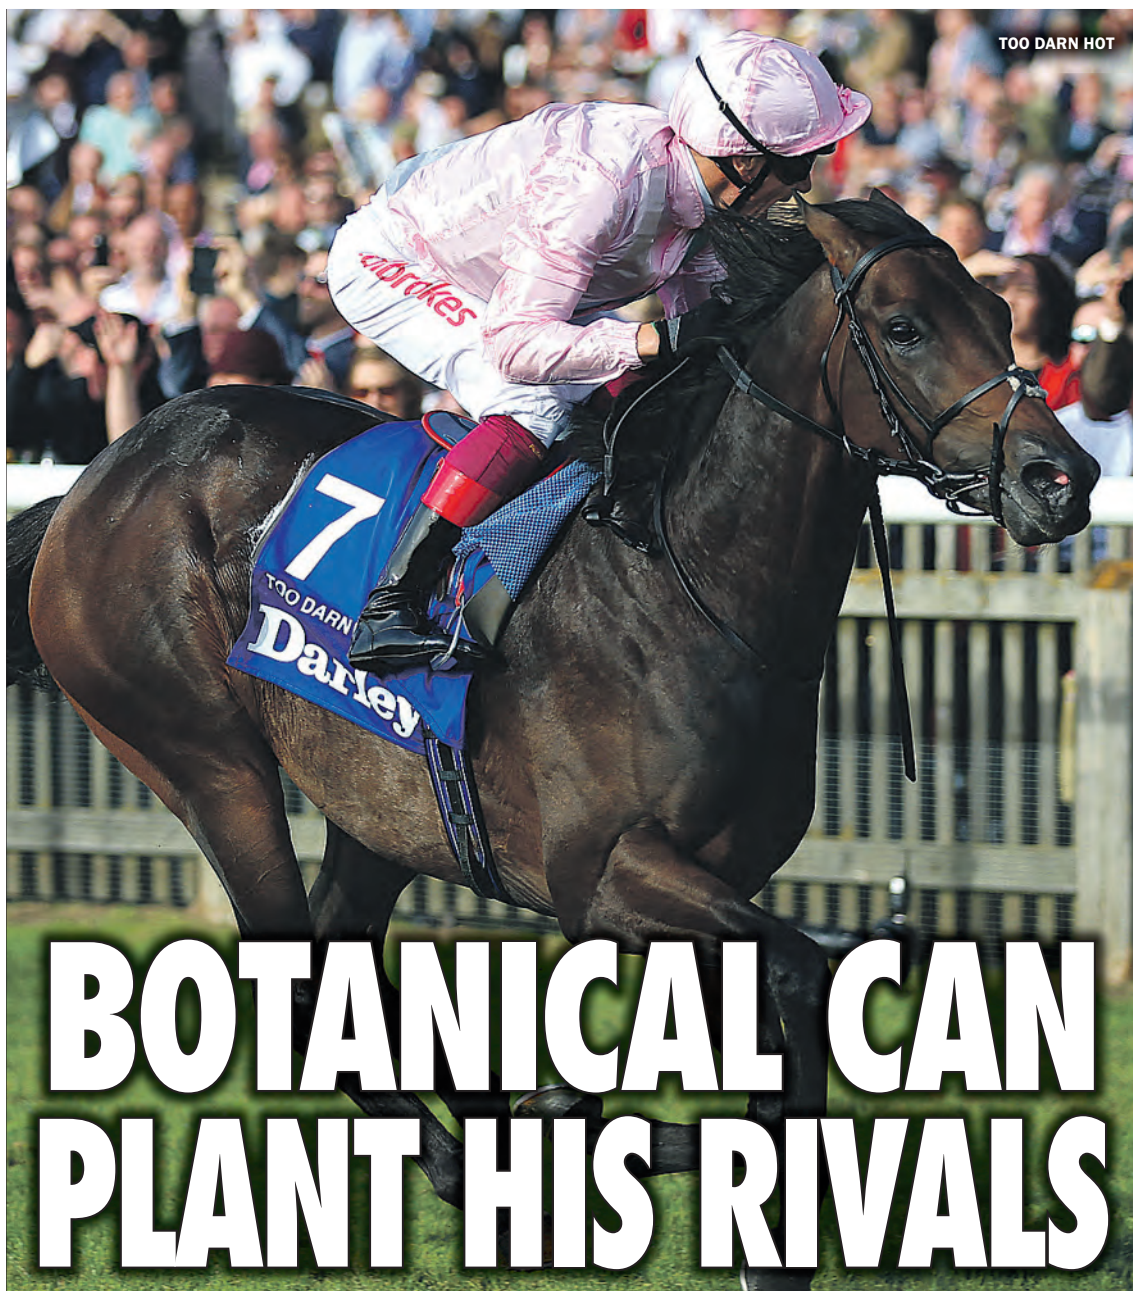

The race has not been won by a two-year-old since Kingsgate Native in 2007 and the state of the ground in the lead up to the fixture will determine whether or not Big Evs goes for it.

"He's fine, he's come out of the race really well," Appleby said. "He didn't like the ground but he's toughed it out."

"Now we've got to decide whether we supplement for the Nunthorpe or not."

"We've had discussion about it with the owner, a lot will depend on the ground and we will probably not decide until the week before when we have to supplement."

BOTANICAL CAN PLANT HIS RIVALS

ROGER Varian hopeful Botanical can show his class again in the Unibet Horserace Betting-Operator Of The Year Novice Stakes at Kempton.

The Lope De Vega gelding, who is out of the Listed winner Bloomfield, was beaten a neck on debut at this track but was then a convincing winner when stepped up in trip at Hamilton last time out.

He caught the eye when coming home three and three-quarter lengths ahead that day and looks able to climb another rung on the ladder when he returns to the Polytrack.

On the same card, Charlie Johnston's Royal Tapestry makes his debut in the Unibet/British Stallion Studs EBF Novice Stakes.

A Too Darn Hot colt out of a Group-placed mare, who has produced a black type performer in the German Listed winner Broderie, Royal Tapestry is bred to be smart.

The Exceed And Excel bay, who out of a four-time winning Dubawi mare, made a good start to her career when second in a Newmarket maiden in mid-July.

In front of her was Charlie Johnston's Sacred Angel, subsequent winner of the Group Three Princess Margaret Stakes, and behind her was Ornellaia, who was a two-length winner of a Goodwood maiden last week.

Versatility

At Brighton, it is Tony Carroll's Pop Dancer who can make the switch to turf to land the Star Sports Festival Of Racing Handicap.

The six-year-old is a regular in five-furlong sprints on synthetic surfaces but has dabbled with turf also and has wins on both quick and soft ground, plus a good second-placed run on heavy under his belt.

That versatility should serve him well, his mark has been gradually on the decline this year and he has a notable jockey booking in Jim Crowley.

Richard Hannon's Optiva Star can build on recent efforts to take the Download The Star Sports App Handicap over seven furlongs.

Second by a head last time on soft ground at Epsom, the gelding runs off the same mark under Pat Dobbs and looks poised to lose his maiden status on the 13th time of asking.

Bussento, trained by Eve Johnson Houghton, catches the eye in the Sky Sports Racing HD Virgin 519 Restricted Maiden Stakes at Bath.

The three-year-old son of Oasis Dream runs for the first time since being gelded and on previous creditable handicap efforts he looks the horse to beat.

Sir Michael Stoute's Point Given appeals in the On Course Lady Bookmaker EBF Maiden Stakes at Pontefract, where he will be ridden by the excellent Ryan Moore.

The Blue Point juvenile was fourth on debut when showing a good deal of inexperience, but he was only beaten a length and a quarter and second-placed Blue Prince has gone on to seal the form by winning since.

Slade out of tune for World Cup squad

BORTHWICK HAPPY TO SELECT ONE NUMBER EIGHT FOR FRANCE FINALS

STEVE Borthwick has defended his decision to pick only one specialist number eight in England's World Cup squad by stating Billy Vunipola is in the shape of his life.

Henry Slade's absence from the 33 players who will depart for France next month provided the biggest selection shock, but close behind was the omission of Alex Domsbrandt.

Surgeries

England's first-choice number eight throughout the Six Nations failed to make the required impression in Saturday's final trial match against Wales, which ended in a tame 20-9 defeat.

Vunipola is the only option with expertise in the position but the 30-year-old Saracens has been sidelined since mid-April after undergoing two knee surgeries and has yet to play under Borthwick.

Borthwick has witnessed enough, however, to believe he can make an impression on his third World Cup.

RUGBY UNION

"Billy has been fantastic in this training camp. I've seen just how hard he's worked to come back from his injury," England's head coach said.

"He looks in great shape and is the fittest I've ever seen him."

"His experience will add to this squad."

"I've had the opportunity to work with him for a long period of time now and the opportunity to understand what the team needs."

Taking a second specialist number eight to the tournament is seen by Borthwick as a luxury England cannot afford.

Instead, he has stocked his back-row contingent with players who can cover multiple positions with Lewis Ludlam, Ben Earl and Tom Curry alternatives if Vunipola becomes unavailable.

"Alex has done really well and has trained well. He's a very, very good player," Borthwick said.

"There's a lot of competition in the back row and there's also flexibility around those positions.

"Lewis Ludlam has the ability to play six, seven and eight. Ben Earl has the ability to play seven and eight. Curry seven, eight and six."

"There's a lot of flexibility there and for me it's about making the decision on the right combination and ultimately that's what it's come down to."

Slade has lost out to Joe Marchant, who alongside Ludlam was one of only two players to emerge from the wreckage at the Principality Stadium on Saturday with his reputation enhanced.

Declined

Borthwick indicated that the decision to take three front line fly-halves in Owen Farrell, George Ford and Marcus Smith to ensure there is adequate cover in the event of injury or suspension ultimately cost the Exeter centre.

"Henry has been excellent throughout the training camps," said Borthwick, who repeatedly declined to say if he believed England can win the World Cup.

"I decided we'd have three players in key positions – front row, scrum-half, fly-half – for the obvious reasons.

"That means in the other areas of the team you need to have a bit more positional flexibility."

"Henry was clearly disappointed but the message to all the players who haven't been selected is to be ready to come into the squad."

"We know there will be changes to the squad before the tournament."

"Past World Cups show there are always bumps and bruises and there will be changes."

Other big names to miss out are wings Jonny May and Joe Cokanasiga, both of whom played in the World Cup four years ago.

Rookie Leicester duo Ollie Chessum and George Martin are present, while inexperienced hookers Theo Dan and Jack Walker supply cover for veteran Jamie George.

Henry Arundell offers with his selection coming at the expense of Cokanasiga.

Courtney Lawes, Dan Cole and Ben Youngs will be appearing at their fourth World Cups in a squad that contains more than 1,400 caps and is comprised of 19 forwards and 14 backs.

Farrell was confirmed as captain last month with Lawes and Ellis Genge acting as his vice skippers for the tournament.

BAYERN HARRY AGONY

Spurs reject 'final' £75m offer from German giants for England skipper

TOTTENHAM have rejected Bayern Munich's latest offer for Harry Kane.

Bayern submitted their third offer of the summer for the England captain on Friday and an apparent deadline of midnight was also set by the German club.

All weekend passed without any further development but Spurs have now responded on Monday and rejected Bayern's latest bid.

Tottenham chairman Daniel Levy was reported to have met with Bayern officials last week, but the clubs remain around £25million apart in their valuation.

Friday's bid was expected to be the final offer made by the Bundesliga champions and it remains to be seen whether or not they will continue their pursuit of Kane.

Kane has entered the final 12 months of his contract at Tottenham, but ignored the noise around his future to score four goals in a 5-1 friendly win over Shakhtar Donetsk on Sunday.

Dejan Kulusevski set up Kane's hat-trick strike and hailed the professionalism of his team-mate.

"He scored four goals, so very good," Kulusevski exclaimed.

"Nah, he's unbelievable. Honestly, his mentality, I can learn from him like everybody. He just goes out and performs day in day out.

"He's a true professional. I'm happy I helped him score today but of course we want him to stay and we'll do everything to make him stay."

Asked whether it would be beneficial to have Kane's future sorted sooner rather than later, Kulusevski admitted: "I think it would."

"On the other hand, you can only control what you can control. We players cannot really do anything about it. We work our hardest, try to stay ready and the players that manage it, it's up to them."

Kulusevski is enjoying life under the new Spurs boss. Things have changed, after being used to a counter-attacking approach under Antonio Conte.

"It is fun actually. I love it," he said.

Improving

"You have to be physically very good, I love that too. I'm enjoying having a lot of ball higher on the pitch, so I'm very grateful to have him (Postecoglou).

"I like him a lot. Also in half-time he was very angry because we stopped playing for five minutes and you cannot be like that."

"You have to play always. Just because you're tired, you can't let them have the ball. Things happen like that. I'm looking forward to improving under him."

Kulusevski did concede there will be an adjustment period for Tottenham under Postecoglou's new bold style.

He said: "Everything takes time in life, but the thing is we really, really have to believe in it. It's not enough if he's trying to make us believe. We all have to do it."

"But we're in a good way, I think. This was the first game when we played 90 minutes. We're happy, we ran a lot. It was quite good."

"Last season, maybe we scored one and then we tried to protect the result. So, of course we have to improve but second half was good."

"He (Postecoglou) said we always have to play. Don't shoot away the ball, don't stop pressing, don't waste time. Always play, play the same and don't think about the score or the time. Just play and have fun."

"We all want to score much more. When we go 1-0, we want to score the second, not back off. So, we all want to score much more."

Onyeka has signed a new four-year contract.

The 25-year-old Nigeria international has made 41 Premier League appearances since signing for the west Londoners from Midtjylland in 2021.

"I'm very pleased that Frank has signed a new contract," Bees boss Thomas Frank told the club website. "He has helped the team a lot during our time in the Premier League."

"During both seasons he has been unlucky with injuries, which have prevented him from taking an even bigger step forward in terms of minutes, but I really like his energy."

"Frank is a great pressing player. He runs into the half-spaces and in behind, progressing up the pitch. He's a very important player for us and we're looking forward to continuing the journey with him."

CHELSEA forward Christopher Nkunku is set for an "extended period" on the sidelines after the Blues confirmed their summer signing has undergone knee surgery.

The 25-year-old France star moved to Stamford Bridge from RB Leipzig for a reported £52million but suffered an injury in Chelsea's pre-season draw against Borussia Dortmund in Chicago.

"Nkunku has sustained a knee injury which will rule the forward out for an extended period," Chelsea said in a short statement confirming the attacker had gone under the knife.

"The 25-year-old has undergone an operation and will now begin a rehabilitation programme with the club's medical department."

While the club have offered no official timeframe for recovery, some reports have suggested the former Paris St Germain forward could be out until December which would be a blow to new gaffer Mauricio Pochettino.

SAKALA TO LEAVE GERS

FASHION Sakala has waved goodbye to Rangers and the "end of an unforgettable chapter in my life".

Ibrox boss Michael Beale confirmed Sakala was in talks with a Saudi club and the 26-year-old missed the 1-0 Premiership defeat to Kilmarnock.

Rangers have not confirmed Sakala's departure but he wrote on his Instagram account: "Today marks the end of an unforgettable chapter in my life. It is with a heavy heart, yet a spirit of gratitude, that I bid farewell to this esteemed club, management and my team-mates but most importantly, to the passionate and loyal Rangers fans."

"When I first joined Rangers, I could never have imagined the profound impact this club and its own community would have on my life."

"From the very first day, you embraced me as one of your own, making me feel like I belonged here."

Salah rejects crazy offer to stay a Red

MO Salah's agent has rejected talk linking the Liverpool forward with a move to Saudi Arabia as the 31-year-old is "committed" to the club.

A report in the Middle East claimed talks were taking place between the Egypt star's representatives and Al-Ittihad over a deal said to be worth over £3m a WEEK over two years to the player.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Salah's former team-mate Fabinho has already made the move to Al-Ittihad in a £40m transfer.

In that context the £60m fee being touted for Salah – who has scored 139 goals in 231 Premier League appearances – appeared to undervalue a player who is only 12 months into a three-year deal which is the most lucrative in Liverpool history.

And Salah's representative insists his man has no intention of leaving Anfield in any case.

"If we considered leaving LFC this year, we wouldn't have renewed the contract last summer. Mohamed remains committed to LFC," Salah's agent Ramy Abbas posted on Twitter.
